

MARLEY CHAIR

Balanced in its blend of strong lines and lenient curves, the Marley sits handsomely in a range of environments. From an office break-out seat to a sunny spot in a contemporary living room, this swivel chair could either be dressed to impress or styled to quietly merge with its surroundings. A round base and angular arms in powder coated metal lend balanced proportions with an unpretentious finish and a variety of colour options. A solid steel subframe gives the Marley the longevity to match its timeless form. Simple lines are at the heart of Marley's visual appeal, while a sprung seat enveloped in high density foam delivers the comfort which is synonymous with the Kovacs name.
